Holly Energy Partners Announces Feasibility Study for New Refined Product Pipeline in the Permian Basin

July 24, 2018

DALLAS--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jul. 24, 2018-- Holly Energy Partners, L.P. (NYSE: HEP) announced today it has engaged AECOM, a third party engineering firm, to perform a feasibility study on a potential refined product pipeline from Orla, TX to Midland, TX. This potential pipeline is part of HEP's continuous efforts to serve the growing distillate demand in the Permian Basin with additional infrastructure projects. The pipeline would complement HEP's existing footprint in the Permian Basin and the recently announced truck loading rack project in Orla, TX.

HEP expects the pipeline to have an initial capacity of 40,000 barrels per day and be in service as early as the third quarter of 2019, subject to receipt of necessary regulatory approvals, permits and commercial support.

Forward-looking Statement:

The statements in this press release relating to matters that are not historical facts are "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the federal securities laws. These statements are based on our beliefs and assumptions and those of our general partner using currently available information and expectations as of the date hereof, are not guarantees of future performance and involve certain risks and uncertainties. Although we and our general partner believe that such expectations reflected in such forward-looking statements are reasonable, neither we nor our general partner can give assurance that our expectations will prove to be correct. Therefore, actual outcomes and results could materially differ from what is expressed, implied or forecast in these statements. Any differences could be caused by a number of factors including, but not limited to:

- risks and uncertainties with respect to the actual quantities of petroleum products and crude oil shipped on our pipelines and/or terminalled, stored and throughput in our terminals;
- the economic viability of HollyFrontier Corporation, Delek US Holdings, Inc. and our other customers;
- the demand for refined petroleum products in markets we serve;
- our ability to purchase and integrate future acquired operations;
- our ability to complete previously announced or contemplated acquisitions;
- the availability and cost of additional debt and equity financing;
- the possibility of reductions in production or shutdowns at refineries utilizing our pipeline and terminal facilities;
- the effects of current and future government regulations and policies;
- our operational efficiency in carrying out routine operations and capital construction projects;
- the possibility of terrorist attacks and the consequences of any such attacks;
- general economic conditions; and
- other financial, operations and legal risks and uncertainties detailed from time to time in our Securities and Exchange Commission filings.

The forward-looking statements speak only as of the date made and, other than as required by law, we undertake no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
